

Motivation: Opportunities Will Come Your Way

Why I cant find the Right Job? People ask this question all the time. This comes from self-discipline, many people scatter in their own thinking. You will learn from reading Motivation for Success how to get started. You have to learn to like yourself and dream about what you want in life, which goals are most important priority wise and move with this kind of thinking. You cant spend all of the money you earn and you cant work in a job that doesnt interest you. You just wont go anywhere fast enough. I see people all the time that wont take a risk in that direction, they would rather be in a comfort zone. What you feed your mind will grow for the very best or not good at all. Free positive thoughts into the mind, there is a positive circle and a negative circle. Be sure you are in the positive one. If you put good in the circle it will follow you and be good. Negative is not for the person that wants to advance. It doesnt work that way, make one step to the positive each day and after twenty -one days it becomes the habit that will take you far in life. One had a young student come to me that didnt like her teacher. I told her to take a piece of paper and draw a line through the center. Put the positive thing about the teacher on one side and the negative on the other. I didnt hear back from the student. The teacher had more positive than negative in her teaching. Motivation is so important in life that it is hard to understand why people dont use it. Good luck to you whoever you are. Just get going and you will succeed in whatever your dreams are in life.
