

Remembrance: Messages for Preparing for Contact, new edition (Logbooks of the League of Light) (Volume 1)

Your big news is about to become known...

What would happen if people from off-planet came out of hiding? How would you feel if you heard there are beings among us who come from other planets, who are here to give us a hand with the task of integrating the collective soul of humanity? Are you prepared for that eventuality? The Pleiadian Renegades have a message to share with us now, in advance of full interaction with extraterrestrial people in the open, on our planet. In the pages of this book, you can decipher the deep resonance of their words, feeling the true vibe of the ET light in their stories, histories, and friendly banter. Its all designed to help the awakening and the understanding of people right now, as the light of a changed world begins to dawn on us all. The individual pieces of this book were for the most part channeled through the year 2008, when a lot was happening in the consciousness of sleepers awakening and leaders emerging. They appeared weekly on the blog Opalescent Words. This book, today, is a synthesis of the core of those messages with all-new material and sequencing to bear a new communication. The original messages said much to many, and this new edition speaks even more fluently to the heart of humankind. Are you ready for contact?
