How can we prepare for being immediate parents of our new son? How will we communicate with him when we speak 2 different languages? What will we do if he has a tantrum? These are just a few of the issues new adoptive couples face when their new child is from another country. International Adoption of a Preschool Child: 100 Parenting Tips for Your Child's First Year provides practical ideas, from preparing for the child's homecoming, to celebrations of holidays and birthdays in his new country. The child's responses to grief and loss are explored, as well as ways to provide love and comfort. The author includes suggestions on learning about and preserving the child's culture, and a section on self-care for new parents. She also emphasizes the importance of support for the parents because of the challenges of immediate parenthood.
