Happiness as an Independent Variable

What makes you happy? What makes you sad? What is the relationship between sadness and anger? Why does our traditional perception of happiness oftentimes fail to lead us to true happiness? Happiness must be treated as an independent variable if a person desires to have and maintain the long term state of happiness. If you are looking for a Not Too Good to Be True guide to lasting, authentic happiness, this is the book for you! Prepare yourself for a great revival of your soul! Now is the time!
