Only One Thing Endures the Test of Time-And That is Love...Jean had been feeling ill for a few months. Finally, in February of 2007, she called her sister-in-law E.P. Baptiste-Cox in the United States from her home in the United Kingdom to tell her that a diagnosis had finally been made-Jean had blood cancer. She began a long and rigorous cancer treatment to help restore her health, but after months of hospitalization, and not responding to treatment, Jean was told there was nothing more her doctor could do for her, and he sent her home to live her last days. Disappointed and no doubt forlorn, she went home and made phone calls to all of her family members to relay the upsetting news. When Jeans condition turned from bad to worse, E.P. Baptiste-Cox went to visit her beloved sister-in-law at her home in England. Jean showered her with many gifts while she was there, including a lovely jewelry box. But just three weeks after returning home from the hospital, Jeans battle with cancer ended in June 2009, just ten days after her sister returned to the United States. Ring of Remembrance is a heart-warming story about the love from one sister to another, and its a gentle reminder that the love in our hearts can illuminate our lives and the lives of others, long after our physical body is released and our soul is safely in Gods hands.
