

8 BALL CAFE: A True Tale of an Adoption and a Life Gone Very Wrong

The 8 Ball Cafe was a bar that actually existed in Huntington Park, California, now disappeared from the landscape. At the 8 Ball Cafe a deal was struck whereby Noah Stone, at age 3, was sold for adoption by his father for $350. That resulted in Noah's lifelong search for his biological family. The 8 Ball Cafe is also symbolic of the moment and place where every adoption plan forever changed the course of an adopted person's life.
