

How to Get 50,000 Clubcard Points Every Year

Product Description Many people across the UK collect Clubcard points from Tesco, Britain's biggest grocer. Tesco were one of the innovators who introduced the country to the concept of reward points at the back end of November 1994. The Clubcard helped Tesco overtake Sainsburys as the UK's biggest supermarket and that lead has increased within the marketplace year on year ever since. Tesco Clubcard members collected over 1.7 billion points last year, enough to save over £170 million on their shopping. Despite this, most people don't really understand how to use the scheme to best advantage, simply using it to buy the weekly grocery shop and maybe filling up with petrol. They probably end up with up to a couple of thousand points, get £20 in reward vouchers worth a miserly 1% discount on their shopping, and spend that £20 to discount their next grocery bill. After studying the scheme in minute detail, I now use it to my advantage and average over 50,000 Tesco Clubcard points per year, which basically pays for a great family holiday every year, courtesy of Tesco! By following the lessons in this e-book, you could do the same, spending up to £2,000 each year on whatever you want, at Tesco's expense!
