About the Author: Donna Wolper grew up on Long Island, N.Y. lived and raised her children in Quebec, Canada and one snowy winter in 1992 she took her children to Mexico. There she discovered a rural, coastal village that existed without cars or electricity. It was through her attunement to the natural world and the lunar phases of Sister Moon that the Divine Feminine revealed herself and guided her to understand the blood mysteries. When she discovered the Native American practice of the moonlodge, she knew she was home and has flowed with this wisdom ever since. This course is the result of flowing in harmony with her lunar cycles and listening to the voice of her Goddess within. For more information visit: www.moontimeharmony.com
